

PANDAH

the smart revolutionary
Personal Alert System

PANDAH Personal Alert Night & Day At Home is a smart personal alert system that keeps you actively in touch with family and other carers.

Whilst primarily designed to support the elderly in living at home longer, PANDAH is also well suited to those of any age undergoing rehabilitation following hospital admissions.

Unlike other systems, PANDAH does not use a call centre, thereby eliminating ongoing fees and contracts.

Rather, PANDAH sends alert notifications in the form of SMS messages direct to the mobile phones of up to 8 nominated carers, using the home telephone line.

PANDAH takes advantage of the informal network of family and friends who are able to render assistance whenever help is required.

A button press on the alert device signals the base unit which acknowledges the request and sends an SMS message to the carers.

A unique two-way wireless system links multiple single button waterproof PADs and two-button PALs (for Help and OK) to the PANDAHLINK base unit.

PANDAH assists with increasing safety and security in the home - because that's where most accidents happen - allowing up to 7 alert wall pads to be placed in high risk danger areas around the home.

Automatic Welfare Monitoring provides regular checks on the owner's welfare up to five times a day at no cost. Carers are rapidly alerted if there is either no response or a Help response to the welfare call.

With zero ongoing cost of ownership, PANDAH is the perfect personal and home reassurance solution for those wishing to remain at home and independent in the knowledge that help is only a button press away.
